

COLDFOOT & ACC

November 2019

As a small business in Anchorage, Alaska, Coldfoot Environmental Services is a proud member of the Anchorage Chamber of Commerce. The Anchorage Chamber of Commerce is the largest business organization in Alaska. Founded in 1915 by local business leaders, the Chamber today is a not-for-profit 501(c)(6) member-driven business organization representing 1,000 companies and a regional workforce of approximately 50,000. For over 100 years, they have served as a resource where members can gain business knowledge, insight, and strength as business professionals. The United States Chamber of Commerce awarded the Anchorage Chamber of Commerce with 5-Star Accreditation for its sound policies, effective organizational procedures, and positive impact on the community.

The Vision

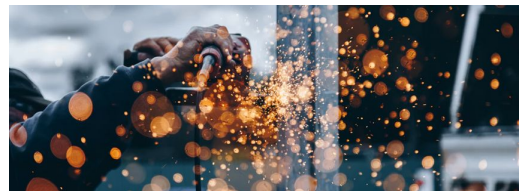

The Anchorage Chamber of Commerce supports the growth and success of members by providing high-value services and opportunities. They achieve this through advocacy, connectivity, and education.

The Mission

The mission is to advance a successful business climate by attending to the civic, economic and cultural betterment of OUR community.

Coldfoot's Involvement

Coldfoot Environmental Services, Inc. is involved with the Anchorage Chamber of Commerce through events, advocacy, education, and resources. By attending the ACC events, Coldfoot, and its sister company Red Box Refuse, are able to connect with other small businesses of Anchorage. Being a part of ACC helps Coldfoot expand their business connections, their resources, and their general knowledge of Anchorage business relations. As a resource, the ACC helps provide information to small businesses like Coldfoot about the politics that surround Anchorage. ACC helps promote small businesses and helps educate their members on current federal, state, and local regulations, bills, and political campaigns.

